Let's Start with "The Core"

As you may have seen on your Fall registration Checklist, you will soon begin to review Requirements and Credits, Registration Tools and Resources and PATH Class Search. After reading the information in these three sections, you will build a tentative course plan and discuss this plan with your First Year Advisor in June or July.

The Core Curriculum is central to undergraduate education at the University of Notre Dame. The Core is a set of University Requirements that apply to all students, regardless of college or major. As you imagine your course schedule for next fall, Understanding the Core is a great place to start!

Deep Dive: What is Advising, again?

In 2020, Katrina Higgins, Director of First Year Advising joined Welcome Weekend to describe how academic advisors partner with first-year students to navigate unique each student's distinct academic journey.

Invite your parents and families to join you in viewing this oldie, but goodie.
