Summer Edition

Upcoming Tasks and Deadlines

Now: First Year Advisors hosted academic advising information sessions via Zoom. These sessions are a great way for you to learn more about the curricular requirements for your intended program and to prepare for your one-on-one meeting with your advisor later in the summer.

Now: Review the information sent in your advisor's introductory email (on June 2) to register for an advising appointment. Didn't receive an email from your advisor? Email firstyear@nd.edu.

Before your one-on-one appointment: To prepare for this first advising meeting, be sure to review all registration materials and familiarize yourself with course planning resources. It is also very helpful to come prepared with a list of questions!

Meeting with your advisor soon?

We can't wait to meet you!

We do not expect you to have it all figured out! We want to get to know you better and learn about your goals and interests so that we can work together to construct the best plan based on your individual needs. But, it is important that you review the step-by-step recommendations on the "How to prepare to meet with your advisor" page!

Reminder: Understanding the Core

Central to undergraduate education at the University of Notre Dame is the Core Curriculum, a set of University Requirements that apply to all students, regardless of college or major. Understanding the Core will be helpful as you prepare for registration!

Spotlight on the First Year

SPO^{GHT}
ON THE FIRST YEAR

Spotlight on the First Year is a Center for University Advising video series that quickly, yet effectively displays the lives of first-year students at Notre Dame. The series proudly showcases rising sophomores as they reflect on their first-year experience and demonstrate the variety of academic and intellectual paths available at Notre Dame.

Check out Ashlyn's experience with the new Global Affairs major with the Keough School of Global Affairs!

What will be your First Lecture at Notre Dame?

First Lecture Series

What matters?
What should we do about it?

Each Welcome Weekend, Notre Dame faculty join you in your first moments on campus to thoughtfully consider a response to two fundamental questions of a life well-lived. While offering a glimpse into their own journeys, these expert scholars will also challenge you to begin to form your own unique response to the questions: What matters? What should we do about it?

In a few weeks, you will receive an invitation to register for a First Lecture. Until then, review the First Lecture Series from 2021!
